SAUCE LABS PRESENTS

Mobile 2012
TESTING SUMMIT
NOVEMBER 1 / SAN FRANCISCO

REGISTER NOW

The Mobile Test Summit is a one-day conference devoted exclusively to sharing ideas and conversing about mobile testing. We're bringing together the key thinkers and doers who are working directly on the OSS projects that are shaping the mobile automation landscape. We hope to inspire cohesion around a standard set of tools for mobile testing, and lay the groundwork for future conversations and development around mobile automation.

As a sponsor of the event, you will have excellent visibility and an introduction to more than 100 test engineers and developers who are focused on mobile app testing and automation. This is the first event of its kind and we expect to sell out quickly!

- ➢ 14 speakers are confirmed for the event, the majority of which are creators of OSS mobile testing tools, including Frank, Calabash & Bewoken. They will lead the conversation through presentations and open-ended discussion time facilitated by the event organizers.

- ➢ Sponsorship donations go directly to making the conference awesome (ticket sales cover just the cost of the venue) with excellent food choices, a well-stocked espresso bar, travel accommodations for out-of-town speakers, and a party.
